

Dear Fellow Shasta County Residents:

As business owners, partners, and investors in our City and County, we oppose the recall of Shasta County Supervisor Leonard Moty.

We understand that many in our community are frustrated and concerned with the state and federal government's response to the many challenges created by the pandemic. While we share some of these frustrations, we look at our thriving local economy and the response of our local Shasta County leadership and have witnessed their unwavering support for businesses and industry. We also look to the future and are excited about the tremendous economic opportunities on the horizon for 2022 and beyond. These opportunities will create jobs, add new businesses, and support greater investment in infrastructure and development. Recent economic growth has opened up additional funding and opportunities; we need the right leadership in place in order to take advantage of these economic opportunities.

During this time of opportunity, we believe that it is imperative to keep our strong and ethical county leadership in place. Through his relationships and experience working with legislators and organizations across the state, Leonard Moty will continue to advocate for and elevate Shasta County. We need his knowledge and established relationships with state and federal leaders to take full advantage of the opportunities that are coming available. Our County needs Supervisor Moty to continue to represent and lead us as a strong business-focused advocate.

As we look ahead, we urge the community to work collaboratively and refocus on our common economic interests in order to steward the responsible, economic growth of our County. We will all greatly benefit from these positive impacts, be more productive, and improve the aspects of our lives that we have the power to change. We also urge the community to refrain from continuing the divisive rhetoric born from frustrations with the state and federal government's response to the pandemic – again, our local government and leaders have supported business and local families when we needed it most.

More than anything, we want to restore our community's pre-pandemic outlook and get back to business. The growing list of business owners, partners, and families who have pledged to Stand with Moty, would like to express our many thanks for your support and believing in moving Shasta County forward.
